"I have always had goals, and with the training I received in both school and on the job, I have met those goals. I now feel that I have the experience necessary to consider self-employment. I know that because of the training I received at the NOVA Career Centre, I have the skills necessary in a trade that is in demand worldwide."

— Corey Ishmael, graduate

"It was definitely worth the time and cost! For a couple of hundred dollars and 16 months, I not only have a job, but a career. Who knows what I would have done instead? It gave me goals that kept me focused and busy. Some people who don't have any goals spend their time getting into trouble. I used my time to get trained in a field that will give me a job today and maybe my own business tomorrow."

— Frank Boyle, graduate

Welding assembly skills guarantee job prospects

Learn the skills of working with metals and alloys at the Provincial Centre of Expertise. Produce and interpret detailed blueprints and master diverse cutting skills. Learn how to assemble metal structures and weld using many different processes on mild steel, stainless steel and aluminum. We offer the longest-running welding programs in the English education sector with over 20 years of service and we were the first CWB Testing Centre in the province of Québec.

Great earning potential!

A diploma could lead to varied careers:

- construction
- aerospace industry
- food equipment and sanitary pipelines
- transportation industry
- metal fabrication
- welding inspector/supervisor
- foreman or lead hand
- metallurgist/welding engineer
- pipe welding and certification

This program will be offered at:

- NOVA Career Centre, Châteauguay
